

2018-19 Community Outreach Guidelines Between the Worthington Farmers Market and Organization

The following guidelines have been established by the Worthington Farmers Market to maintain a productive marketplace for both vendors and the community. The Worthington Farmers Market may change, modify or delete guidelines to preserve the safety and security of said marketplace.

Daily operations of the Worthington Farmers Market will be managed by Jaime Moore (hereinafter "Market Manager"), including but not limited to the resolution of any dispute regarding these guidelines.

The Worthington Farmers Market is in the heart of Old Worthington, every Saturday from 8:00am-12:00pm, May through October, and inside The Shops at Worthington Place from 9:00am-12:00pm, November through April. Worthington area organizations are invited to apply for space to promote their mission. The Community Outreach table is ancillary to the market's primary purpose.

I. POLICIES and REQUIREMENTS

Community Organizations

The Worthington Farmers Market invites community organizations to share information about their work in the community with our market goers. Organizations with a primary focus in line with the Worthington Farmers Market will be considered for participation. Decisions made by the Worthington Farmers Market shall be final. Examples of organizations that may apply for the Community Outreach table include:

1. Charitable 501(c)(3) organizations.
2. Organizations that promote Ohio foods.
3. Organizations that enhance the community, or those who sponsor community improvement projects.
4. Political and religious activities are not permitted.

Purpose

The purpose of the Worthington Farmers Market is to support the food and farm artisans' ability to make fresh, local goods available to the community. Any ancillary activity that interferes with this primary activity will not be permitted.

1. Items deemed to be in competition with our vendors, including food and plants may NOT be sold.
2. Organizations may distribute materials that request donations. Individuals representing the organization may not approach or shout at customers.

Fees

A $50 space fee, per day is due upon submission of your application. Fees are non-refundable, and credits for days missed will not be given. A maximum of one date per month, per season will be granted.

Nonprofits, with a copy of their designation letter, will only be charged $25 per day.
